Video Highlights

In this episode of MSC's Tooling Up, Toni Neary is joined by Jay Ball, Product Manager at Seco Tools, for a discussion on solid milling and the solutions Seco Tools provides with Niagara Cutter.

Jay walks us through his background in solid milling and his career at Seco Tools. The conversation then transitions to Seco's focus on being a technical solution provider for its customers, providing solutions that make customers more efficient and effective in manufacturing. Toni and Jay discuss the significance of the cutting tools industry and the need to share tribal knowledge and promote education. This episode's focus is the transition from two or three flute end mills to the five flute end mills, how they are best used, and who should be using them.
