VIDEO: SHOWA XC Series: Performance & Durability

Brought To You by SHOWA | Aug 01, 2025

Discover the revolutionary SHOWA XC Series, an ultra-lightweight range of hand protection engineered for optimal performance and all-day comfort. This video highlights the key features and benefits of the XC500, XC510, XC800, and XC810 models, showcasing how they redefine industrial hand safety. Experience unmatched dexterity and breathability thanks to their innovative, lightweight design. Benefit from a precision fit that enhances productivity. Choose your ideal level of protection with tailored cut resistance ranging from ANSI A4 to A5 (and EN388 D to E). Enjoy superior grip and abrasion resistance provided by durable polyurethane or oil-resistant nitrile palm coatings. Learn which XC Series glove is best suited for your specific needs in manufacturing, assembly, construction, and various other industrial applications. SHOWA covers the nuances of each model, explains ANSI and EN388 cut level differences, and highlights the advantages of each palm coating.
